

Here is where you can find the other Tony Thomases on the Net

This Tony Thomas is a producer and DJ just like I am. Even more coincidentally, we share the same strange spelling of our given name: Antony. However, he lives in the UK and I live in the USA. And he writes House Music and I have only written about it. I can't say that I have ever heard his stuff, though. But, with a name like Tony, it's gotta be good.

<http://www.tonythomas.co.uk/>

This Tony Thomas is the son of the late and great Danny Thomas. He is a famous TV producer and the brother of Marlo and brother-in-law of Phil Donahue. And, no, I didn't produce Soap, Benson, The Golden Girls, Insomnia, Final Analysis or Dead Poet's Society. But I sure wish I did!

http://www.stjude.org/celebrities/0,2883,646_3856,00.html

This Tony Thomas has passed on, but as I understand it, he was a writer, producer and broadcaster (again, like me). He had some impressive credentials. Rest In Peace, Tony. (1927-1997)

http://www.filmscoremonthly.com/articles/1997/10_Jul---Tony_Thomas_1927-1997.asp

This Tony Thomas is a DJ (again, like me) and music director of KMPS-FM in Seattle. He has been there for ages, so I take it he is good. (How could he not be good with a name like that?)

<http://www.radiotony.com/>

This Tony Thomas is pretty secretive. You need a password to get into his site. Wonder what is in there anyway?

<http://www.tonythomas.com>

And, then, there were these three guys. None of them Tony. None of them Thomas. But, could they sing!

<http://www.soulwalking.co.uk/Tony%20Toni%20Tone.html>